'Meatheads' are allowed

Re: the Sept. 19 column "No meat-heads allowed."

I am the owner of Lovin' Spoonfuls Vegetarian Restaurant, as well as the Kielbasa Cart Downtown, which was the subject of this column.

I loved the story, and feel that the writer did a great job in capturing the spirit of the cart and of the operator, Brian Taraz.

I would like to express my concern over the headline of the story, since it is the exact opposite of what we believe and what we try to convey.

Not only are "meatheads" allowed, they are encouraged to try our products.

My entire purpose for opening the restaurant and the cart was to promote vegetarianism and veganism, and I am concerned that readers may be put off by this title.

Star readers should know that "meatheads" are absolutely allowed, and that we welcome and look forward to the opportunity to show them how tasty our vegetarian selections are.
